Carbon Express Unveils The Covert SLS Crossbow For 2012

New Carbon Express Covert SLS is designed for compact high performance

Flushing, Michigan – Carbon Express, a leader in arrow technology, innovation and precision is pleased to expand its premier crossbow line with the addition of the Covert SLS, a slim-line designed crossbow that allows for easy maneuvering from both ground blind and treestand.

The Carbon Express[®] Covert SLS was designed for compact comfort. With 355 fps and 119 ft-lb of kinetic energy, it's packed with blazing speed and incredible power. Lightweight and extremely well balanced, the SLS features a green anodized flight rail, proven carbon infused limbs on a mini-parallel CNC machined riser and premium string and cables—all to deliver accurate shots in the tightest of spaces. And like the CX2, the SLS's Picatinny mounting system, complete with adjustable forearm and mounting grip, provides the ultimate combination of adjustability for any shooting style and in a wide variety of hunting environments.

The Covert SLS includes:

- Quick detach 3-arrow quiver,
- 3 Carbon Express exclusive Maxima Hunter[®] 20" crossbolts
- Deluxe lighted scope with red/green illuminations for varying light conditions
- Rail lubricant
- Practice points

Covert SLS Specs:

- Feet per second – 355
- Kinetic energy – 119 ft-lb
- Draw weight – 185 lbs
- Power stroke – 13"

The new Covert SLS is the heart of the Carbon Express crossbow line, and, with its high-performance compact design, it will make hunting easier by helping you to shoot better.
